Assessment

The main contributors of this current project have been Ali Waseem, and show most recent dedication to the project. He should be overseeing the current developments. Currently, some developers no longer should be assigned to the project based on low commits and relevancy like Frider Bluemi and Mohammed Ezzat. For future developers, we should focus on experience in maintaining Kotlin due to most of recent files have been in Kotlin while many of the java and c developers have had less of a role in recent development   FORK LINK: https://github.com/lolbro2k/group-8
